The Bishop's Letter

Happy Chinese New Year greetings to you all and may I wish you all a peaceful and blessed Easter. Easter always speaks to me of the renewal of our spiritual lives. The old life is buried with the death of Jesus, while the new is brought alive with the resurrection of Jesus on Easter morning. I pray that each of you will experience this for yourselves in a fresh and special way this Easter.

I am leaving later this morning for Hawaii where I have been asked to take part in the consecration of their new Bishop. We have always had a close relationship with the Diocese of Hawaii; in fact the last Bishop of Hawaii was of Chinese ancestry so we were especially close. As the only Diocese in Asia that is part of ECUSA, I feel that I have a special responsibility to my colleagues both in ECUSA and in Asia. As a member of the ECUSA Communications Committee I see it as my duty to let other Episcopal Churches in Asia know about what is happening in ECUSA, and also to bring the voice of Asia to the ECUSA House of Bishops. As I report to my Asian colleagues on the resolutions made at the ECUSA House of Bishops, I also have to let them know my response and offer explanations. My vision is to be a bridge between the 2 continents, and to promote and foster better understanding and relationships.

At the recent Primates meetings in Tanzania, new ECUSA Presiding Bishop Katherine Jefferts Schori maintained her stand that ECUSA would continue to ordain and consecrate gay priests and Bishops. We in Taiwan do not want to criticize the ECUSA decision. The Presiding Bishop understands that the church must not stand in the place of judgment but must proclaim the Gospel of salvation. Actually nobody knows what Jesus' attitude would be if he were here today in the midst of this. This is what I always tell my Taiwanese colleagues from other denominations who challenge me. However, although we are part of ECUSA, we will not follow that same policy. We will follow the teaching as laid out in the Bible. We will accept gay people in our churches but we will not ordain them. If a church vestry wants to accept them as members of the Vestry or as wardens, then that is their decision. Actually until now we have not faced this problem in our Diocese but I pray that we may be sensitive and prayerful if it arises.

Our theme for 2007 is family witness, and our prayer is that all our church members will be a good witness in their family, work and local community, and will be active in the mission of the church. May God guide and help each one of us!

TAIWAN - OSAKA SISTER - DIOCESE RELATIONSHIP

The special link between the Dioceses of Taiwan and Osaka (Japan) is now well-established and already bearing fruit. In October 2006, 2 of our clergy from Taiwan visited Osaka for 5 days, at the kind invitation of Bishop James Toru Uno of Osaka. The invitation was for one female priest and one young priest, so Rev. Elizabeth Wei represented the former while Rev. Philip L. F. Lin represented the latter. They received a wonderful warm welcome and were really grateful for all the hospitality.

On their visit to Osaka, they were able to visit churches, Diocesan schools, colleges and hospitals as well as see various community projects run by the church. They also participated in a special joint Diocesan service where they were so moved to hear the whole church singing 2 choruses in Chinese specially learned for the occasion. Meanwhile the older women had learned the Lord's Prayer in Chinese, so that they could all pray together. You have to know something of the history of our 2 countries to appreciate the significance of this simple act of worshipping and praying together.

The similarities between the church in Osaka and Taiwan give our sister-Diocese relationship a special meaning, as we share so much in common. Both our Dioceses originally come from the American Episcopal Church, and both exist in countries where Christians are very much in the minority.

Christians in Japan account for only about 1% of the population, while in Taiwan less than 3% are Christians.

Both Dioceses have small numbers of full-time stipendiary priests, Osaka has 22 and the retirement age is set at 70; while Taiwan has only 11, and they retire at 65. Most of the Osaka clergy are older and come from families that have been Christians (or even clergy) for many generations; while in Taiwan most of the clergy are young, first-generation Christians, converted at college or university. Taiwan also has 3 female clergy, whereas Osaka has only one, the Rev. Pam Cooper, who is a CMS mission partner from the UK.

The basic problem facing the Diocese in Osaka is that the churches have small congregations, and young people and especially young clergy are few in number. There was a lot of sharing and discussion about these problems between our 2

Taiwanese clergy and their Osaka counterparts. Many of the women in Osaka expressed great interest in women priests and asked many questions, while the Osaka clergy were keen to learn ways of reaching young people with the gospel.

The trip was a great success and we really give thanks to God for his many blessings.

Just this week, the Diocese of Osaka has requested that we send them copies of our kindergarten menus for the snacks that our children eat each day. They want to learn from us and use some of our ideas for snacks. A practical way for us to help! There is a possibility of a group from Osaka coming for a tour in November this year and also some of their young people may be able to join our team of parish evangelists this summer on their mission and camp program.

It is exchanges like this that are so beneficial to both Dioceses. We have so much to learn from each other and also so many ways in which we can encourage each other and grow together to become mature Christians and mature churches. Please continue to pray for this special sister relationship that we have with the Diocese of Osaka.

CHRISTIAN CONFERENCE OF ASIA – 10TH ANNUAL HUMAN RIGHTS TRAINING.

Rev. Leo W.B. Tzeng represented the Diocese at this training conference held from November 11-17, 2006 in Chiang Mai, Thailand. 30 representatives from 14 Asian countries attended. The week included a 2-day trip to Mae Sai, on the northern border of Thailand, the famous Golden Triangle area, to see the work of various human rights organizations, including churches. There was a lot of sharing between participants and many friendships were made. The training was particularly concerned with the issue of the relationship between working for human rights and the preaching of the gospel. The words of challenge are Jesus' words in the temple recorded in Luke 4: 18-19 when he quotes the words of Isaiah:

"The Spirit of the Lord is on me, because he has anointed me to preach the good news to the poor.

He has sent me to proclaim freedom for the prisoners and recovery of sight for the blind,
to release the oppressed, to proclaim the year of the Lord's favor."

And so in Taiwan, we pray for God's strength and help as we look for new ways to reach out to people with God's love and the gospel. Many of our churches are already involved in helping the poor, elderly, outcasts and those in trouble of any kind. Good Shepherd Church in Taipei has long had a valuable community project among the elderly and housebound, while Trinity Church, Keelung has a relatively new ministry among local children and young people. May God guide us and give us wisdom and courage as we serve Him.

THEOLOGICAL STUDENTS / SEMINARIANS

As a small Diocese, we do not have our own theological college or seminary. Rather we send our seminarians either to Tainan Theological College (Presbyterian) or to Fu-Ren University (Roman Catholic) in Taipei. This study is supplemented by teaching of various theological and specifically Anglican studies (and fieldwork) through Trinity Hall, our own Episcopal Center for Theological Study. At present, the Diocese has 2 students at theological college studying as seminarians. Mr. Her Jung-Long, now in his early 50's, was originally a high school teacher who retired and then studied in the USA for a PhD in the field of education. Mr. Zhou Tsai-Shin is a young man who graduated from St. John's University, Tamsui. Both are in their first year at Fu-Ren University. Please pray for them.

C H U R C H N E W S

St. John's Cathedral, Taipei

On December 2, 2006, there was a great service of celebration and thanksgiving at St. John's Cathedral in honor of the 50th anniversary of the cathedral. 164 people attended. As they thank God for all his blessings over the last 50 years, they also pray for the next 50 years, and commit their future to God. They are particularly keen to see revival among their young people and to focus of the preaching of the gospel.

St. Luke's Church, Hualien

St. Luke's has recently started a children's ministry. Every Tuesday and Thursday between 7:00 – 9:00pm children in Grades 4-6 at local primary schools can come to the church where teachers are on hand to help them with their homework and studies. 10 children come regularly and these same 10 children also come to a monthly children's club held on Saturday afternoons for Bible teaching and church activities.

The church is also reaching out to the elderly in the community with teams of 3-4 people who visit the old people in their homes around the times of 5 major festivals: Christmas, New Year, Easter, Dragon Boat Festival and Autumn Moon Festival. Please pray for these community outreach programs that they will bear great fruit.

Advent Church, Tamsui.

The big event of 2007 is going to be the installation and dedication of the new stained glass window to be placed horizontally in the ceiling of the church. The present one is lacquered and not real glass. It is showing signs of age and has been damaged by passing typhoons, so it really needs replacing. The new one has been specially designed by American artist, Lyn Hovey, and depicts a scene from Jacob's ladder, most appropriate given that it is going to be placed directly above the altar. The cost of this project is about NT$ 10 million, much of which still needs to be raised. Please pray for us! We hope it will be ready for dedication by the end of this year, hopefully on Advent Sunday itself.

Another item of interest is the start of our new English classes for primary school children on Friday evenings, to coincide with our regular prayer meeting and choir practice. We hope that these classes will attract children of our church members (whose parents can then attend the prayer meeting), as well as local children in the community.

Advent Church outing

We would also appreciate prayer for our music, and the training of those in our church to play the piano and organ, and be part of our music group and choir. This is an ongoing project. Finally we have a new senior churchwarden, Mr. Chen Sheng-Feng, who has just taken up his new responsibilities. Please pray for him!

St. John's University, Tamsui

We give thanks to God for the 40th anniversary celebrations of St. John's University, to be held on Saturday April 28 here on the campus. For this very special occasion, we have also invited the Presidents of the other Anglican universities in Asia to attend. They will then stay on for meetings the following day to discuss the formation of a Pacific Rim Chapter of CUAC (Colleges and Universities of the Anglican Communion: www.cuac.org).

The university is preparing to build new administrative buildings and classrooms next year, 2008. The architectural designs are to be prepared this month. The total cost of the construction is estimated to be approx NT$ 300 million.

At the annual Diocesan Convention held on March 2, 2007, St. John's President, Dr. Yang, outlined 3 challenges that the university faces this coming year:

1. To increase the student numbers. This academic year, the student numbers are about 200 less than last year, and the trend is likely to continue. This is mainly because of intense competition from other universities in the Taipei area. Extension students (who study in the evenings and weekends) are also decreasing due to the challenges of fitting in part-time study around full-time jobs, and due to the distance of travel. Students consider other universities to be far more conveniently situated. Some of our extension classes are already held at other more convenient sites.
2. Safety of our students. Every year on average one of our students is killed in a road accident, mostly involving motorcycles, and in 2006 there were 2 killed. The university is keen to discourage students from using motorcycles, and to encourage them we provide regular school buses running between the university and the Taipei Metro station, fitting in with class schedules.
3. According to government classifications St. John's is a University of Technology, but we hope to be upgraded to a full university in the future. During this coming year, there will be a government official inspection of all Universities of Technology including St. John's. Our inspection will take place in December 2007.

In the St. John's Chaplaincy, the Rev. Lennon Chang reports on the training and discipling of Christian students. His vision is to see some of our Christian students eventually being ordained and committed to full-time Christian service. To this end, a group of 30-40 Christian students traveled to southern Taiwan for a training week just before Chinese New Year. Most of the students were from the university but some were from other Episcopal churches in northern Taiwan. Now we have a new department at the Diocese to take care of these Parish Evangelists, and we are excited about the development of this outreach work. During July-August 2007, these young people will lead a series of summer camps and missions throughout the Diocese. Maybe some from Osaka will be able to join them. There are 2 training days for these young evangelists on March 24 and May 26. Please pray for these young Christians and for the chaplaincy staff as they work with them. www.sju.edu.tw

Grace Church, Tainan

Under the leadership of the Rev. June Chou, the church has started a daily Bible study each morning, Tuesday – Friday, and there are 5 regular participants. They meet at 10:00am to read the Bible together and to pray. The church has a special burden to reach out to the families of church members. Many of our church members are in the situation where they are the only committed Christian in their family, and so they request your prayers as they share and witness with their families. One of the oldest members of our congregation is Mrs. Wang (Wang Mama), who at 91 years of age is in poor health. Please pray for her and for those who care for her.

Grace Church has a vision to build a new church on a new site. The present church is too small and its situation is such that it goes largely unnoticed by those passing by. Even those entering the church grounds or going to the kindergarten have a hard time finding the church!

St. Paul's Church, Kaohsiung

The aim of the church for this coming year is to be a healthy, growing and mature church. There are new programs of discipleship training, Bible studies, and acolyte training. At Christmas the church went out to the local neighborhood to share the good news with local people and got a really positive response.

The Rev. Michael Liou retired from St. Paul's in the summer of 2006 and moved with his wife to Taipei. Mrs. Liou however, continues as the Supervisor of St. Paul's Kindergarten and visits monthly from Taipei. Each day she is on the phone to St. Paul's. Please pray for her and for all the Kindergarten Supervisors in the Diocese. Few of the principals and teachers in the Diocesan kindergartens are Christians, but most have weekly Bible study and devotional times together with the clergy. Pray for this evangelism to be effective.

St. Andrew's Kindergarten, Jie-Ding

The parish worker, Cheng Ching-San, and his wife have started children's work at St. Andrew's and are encouraged by the response. The children's activities are on Saturday afternoons between 2-4pm and involve Bible stories, games, crafts etc. On Wednesday afternoons at 5:00pm the kindergarten teachers gather for Bible study. Mr. Cheng also teaches the kindergarten children Bible stories and songs each week. Jie-Ding is a coastal village with an active Episcopal Kindergarten but no longer has a church. They request your prayers!

All Saints, Kangshan

The parish worker at Jie-Ding, Cheng Ching-San, is based at All Saints, Kangshan on Sundays. He retired from full-time high school teaching at the age of 50 a few years ago and studied at Tainan Theological College for 3 years. After a year as a parish worker, he is due to be ordained deacon on March 31st 2007. We give thanks for his commitment to serve in the church full-time, and pray for more to follow in his footsteps after retirement.

Kangshan is the site of a large air force base and many of the church members are air force veterans and their dependants. The veterans live in a special village that is being demolished and they will all move to new apartments. For many this is the first time they have moved for 50 years, and is a great upheaval in their old age. Please pray for them. Pray also for the youth group of more than 10 who have started to learn the guitar in the church. Pray that they may become more and more committed.

St. Timothy's Church, Kaohsiung

St. Timothy's Church started 8 years ago with 13 members of St. Paul's moving to another area of Kaohsiung city to start a new church. Now St. Timothy's has more than 80 members, for which we give thanks to God. It is a growing church with many activities especially for children and young people. The weekends have long been the time when the children's activities are held, but recently the church has also started to open its doors during the week after school to give children a quiet place to do their homework and to study. Their hope is that every child who enters the doors of St. Timothy's will mature in body, mind and spirit, be full of life and energy, and be a great blessing to their family.

From Sept. 2005 to July 2006, Rev. Justin Lin spent the year in Vancouver, Canada. Now looking back, the church members can see that year as a year in which the church greatly matured, as they all worked together to help out and to serve.

For adults, the Sunday morning service is being changed to a later time to allow an adult Bible class to be held on Sunday morning before the service. Many of the church members have not been Christians for long and are not very familiar with the Bible, so this will be a good chance for teaching and training.

St. Peter's Church, Chia-Yi

The 47th General Convention of the Taiwan Episcopal Church took place at St. Peter's Church and China

Trust Hotel, Chia-Yi City on March 2, 2007. There were over 70 participants including clergy, church representatives and observers. The following morning, Bishop Lai took a group of 20 people to Alishan to see the sunrise and flower blossoms. It was beautiful!

The local government is making a big new park across the road from the church. This has the potential for all sort of exciting things for the church in the future.

Rev. Keith J. C. Lee writes:

Please pray that we can have more young people and children to join our church. Please pray that our Bible teaching in the kindergarten can help the teachers and children to know more about the faith and God, and that their hearts will be transformed by the Gospel.

Church of the Leading Star, Taiping

The parish worker at Taiping, Ms Grace Yang, has a great burden to reach out to the local community with the gospel. Already one mother and daughter have been baptized and joined the church. Please pray for more and more contacts and new members. There is outreach among local children through the Saturday children's club, and in the kindergarten among the children and teachers.

The church has recently changed the position of the altar. The church itself is housed in a room that was originally 2 rooms of a house, now joined together into one. Right in the middle is a big concrete pillar. The church tries to accommodate this pillar but wherever the altar is situated, people behind the pillar cannot see anything. Now they have rearranged the room with the altar at what was originally the back of the room. The other end is now a memorial where people can come and remember their ancestors, according to Taiwanese custom.

St. Mark's Church, Pingtung

The Rev. Lee Chang-Rong writes: "Although our church members are not many, and our building is not large, we are more than willing to reach out and share with people the wonderful love of Jesus. We have many activities and classes to attract every age of person and we hope that more and more people will come to our church. Please pray for our outreach and evangelism in the local community".

St. James' Church, Taichung

St. James' is a very outward-looking church and very involved in supporting mission projects throughout the world. Much of this has been achieved through the leadership of Rev. Charles C. T. Chen, former Rector of St. James'. Although now retired, he continues as Supervisor of the Kindergarten. At present a new 8-storey building is under construction on adjacent land bought from neighbors. On the site previously were 3 very old uninhabited houses. The lower floors of the new building will be used by the kindergarten; after-school classes and cram school will use the middle floors, while the church will use the upper floors. We hope that the building will be ready in time for the new academic year in September 2007.

Unfortunately the new building project has encountered a lot of opposition from one of the neighbors who objects to being surrounded on 3 sides by the kindergarten buildings, but who also doesn't want to sell his land to us. He has taken the kindergarten to court. Please pray for Mr. Liao, that he will have a change of heart and we can have a better relationship with him.

The construction company has donated NT$ 50,000 and this money has been sent to our overseas friends. Half the money has gone to the Diocese of Central Philippines where we have had a longstanding partnership for many years. One of their churches was badly damaged last year in a typhoon and this money will go to help with the cost of rebuilding. The other half of the money has gone to Tanzania to help in the building of a new primary school that we have links with.

St. James' Kindergarten has recently set up an agreement of cooperation with the Cambridge-Ellis Pre-School in Boston, USA. Charles went there recently with his wife to discuss and sign the agreement. We hope that each summer we can have an exchange of teachers. They are very keen that 2 of our kindergarten teachers should go there to teach Chinese at their summer camp, and we hope to be able to welcome 2 of their teachers here to teach English at our summer camp too.

St. James' has a vision to build a new church in about 5 year's time. But a new church needs a revived people and we pray for all the Bible teaching and evangelism that is going on. Rev. Philip L. F. Lin leads the church work. Particularly exciting recently has been the baptism of the husband of the St. James' Kindergarten principal, Mr. Tsai. His wife was baptized many years ago, while his children were baptized about 2 years ago. The children were then aged about 6 and 8, but told that they must keep this a secret from their grandmother with whom they all live. So far they have kept the secret. Now their father has been baptized and has done so without telling his mother.

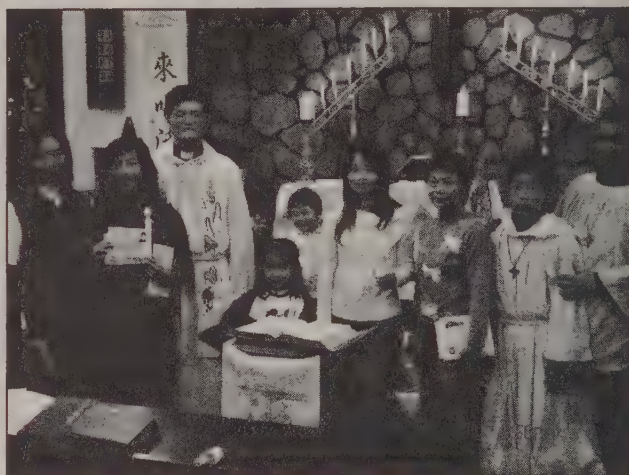

He is the only son, and this is a big step to take. Many of the St. James' Kindergarten teachers are Christians, but not so their husbands. Although many of these husbands regularly attend church, they are not yet baptized out of respect for their elderly parents who are strongly opposed. Please pray for Mr. Tsai, that his example may both inspire and encourage others to take this step of faith.

Trinity Church, Keelung.

Trinity Church was mentioned in a recent copy of Friendship magazine in an article about the children's and young people's ministry. Rev. Richard Lee and his wife continue this work and have seen many blessings from God. 6 young people were baptized recently, but they needed discipling and a lot of help to see major changes of behavior at home and at school. In response to this need, in the winter vacation Richard and his wife took these young people on a training camp to Hualien for 5 days. Each day they had Bible studies and prayer in the mornings, and went out into the community to do evangelism in the afternoons.

From the first day God poured down his blessings. The Holy Spirit came down every morning and filled each person there. Everybody was deeply moved, many cried, and many received the gift of speaking in tongues. By the time they came to the afternoons, it was with real excitement that these young people went out to preach the gospel to anyone they met on the streets. 50 people were contacted in this way and 20 prayed prayers of initial commitment with a desire to know more about Jesus. Since they returned to Keelung, these young people have started to pray and read the Bible every day, and the weekly church prayer meeting is now full of young people. They have learned so much in such a short period of time and it has really had lasting effects. Great thanks to God!

A kind invitation from the Dublin University Far-East Mission (DUFEM) means that Richard has the chance to go to Ireland for a month after Easter. Please pray that his visit would be a blessing to him and to all whom he meets. Pray also for his wife as she expects their second child in May.

Good Shepherd Church, Taipei

The vision of Good Shepherd is to build a new church and church buildings. The kindergarten desperately needs more space, especially more classrooms, and the church needs new buildings for outreach. They also need parking spaces. The great challenge is to keep the Chinese design (the only church in the Diocese built to a Chinese design) but build a church that is suitable for modern use. There are 4 groups to consider: Chinese congregation, English congregation, kindergarten and social work department. These groups are all working together to try to design a church that is suitable for all to use; they see themselves as companions on this journey of faith. 3 committees for Building, Finance and Prayer have been established to cover all aspects of the building project. The plan is to spend this year in preparation, prayer, consultation and fund-raising; then hopefully next year 2008 they will be ready to start building. Please pray with them for this vision to be fulfilled.

Good Shepherd gives thanks that last year, 2006, their stewardship campaign was really effective and the income was high. They also thank God for special services over Chinese New Year when Chinese and English congregations came together for a special joint service and meal. The Sunday before Chinese New Year is the day when all the churches in the Diocese hold a special day of remembrance of the ancestors, in accordance with Chinese tradition at this time of year. Many people find this service very moving, helpful and special, and this was especially so at Good Shepherd Church this year.

In the English congregation, Rev. Diane Wong has recently arrived from the Diocese of Massachusetts (Oct 30th '06), USA, to serve as English chaplain. She is thrilled to report on the challenges of serving such a changeable congregation. The congregation is gradually becoming more active and participatory with more people taking part in the worship, more fellowship and the start of a regular Sunday school. They have planned 2 church trips; one to join with St. James' English congregation for their service on March 25 in Taichung, and another to the Diocese for lunch after the Sunday service on May 20. Pray that these activities may bear fruit and that as people leave the congregation to move away, so newcomers may replace them.

BIBLE EXAMS

Every month, the Diocese holds exams on the Bible texts taken from the Sunday service readings. The purpose is to encourage the church members to read the Bible and to learn texts from memory. Because the theme of the Diocese for this year is family witness, there are prizes for the 5 families in the Diocese with the best score (family size is a minimum of 2, and the 2 best results in the family are taken). There are also 20 individual awards and 3 group awards.

Did You Know...

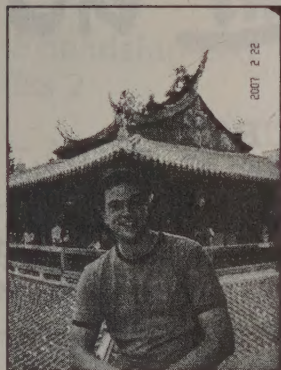

In the year 2006, a total of 65 people were baptized in the Diocese. 40 were confirmed. On average, a total of 823 people attend the morning services each Sunday, while 681 receive communion.

On April 3, 2007, there is to be a special service at St. James' Church, Taichung for all the clergy. This is an annual event, where all the clergy renew their vows and we have the blessing of the oil.

The Kindergarten principals, supervisors and some clergy will hold their annual gathering for fellowship and discussion up in the mountains at Ching-Jing Farm from April 16-18, 2007.

Every season the Diocese has a spiritual book that we encourage our church members to read. These are distributed free to interested people on condition they read the books. The book introduced at the annual meeting was called "Come on, you can make it!"

Dear Friendship readers,

Hi, my name is Drew Foisie and I am a Young Adult Service Corpse missionary from Seattle serving at The Church of the Good Shepherd in Taipei. I have been at Good Shepherd for about six months and will continue there for about five more. Most of my travels around Taiwan have been concentrated in the north, but during Chinese New Year week I had the special privilege of traveling to southern Taiwan to visit several of our churches and the cities they're in. The Taiwanese are well known for their hospitality and this experience proved to be no exception.

Good Shepherd's Rector, Lily Chang, masterfully coordinated a schedule for my Chinese New Year week. It included a family dinner with one of Good Shepherd's kindergarten teachers on Chinese New Year's Eve, 2 days in Taijung, Ash Wednesday at Good Shepherd, 1 day in Tainan, 1 night in Kangshan, 1 day in Pingtung and 1 day in Kaohsiung. If you're thinking, "wow", then you're thinking a little bit like me. Though taking the high speed rail made much of the traveling very easy.

Some of the highlights of the trip were seeing Sun Moon Lake, the historic forts in Tainan, the Taiwan beer brewery in Pingtung, the aboriginal cultural center outside of Pingtung and the beach, ocean, lighthouse and military fort at Kaohsiung. The real highlights, however, were seeing the churches of our diocese, connecting with the clergy and their families and hearing their stories. It was delightful to connect names and faces and pictures of places!

For me, as a Young Adult Service Corp missionary serving only one year in Taiwan, this action packed schedule was sheer blessing. I really and truly saw that Taiwan is much more than Taipei, that our diocese has many wonderful and beautiful houses of worship, that our clergy are committed and serving with vigor, that our diocese in spite of it's size is strong and that the spirit of it's people is bright. To Rev Samuel Liao at All Saints, Rev Justin Lin at St Timothy's, Rev Leo Tseng at St Paul's, Rev June Chou at Grace Church and Rev Daniel Lee at St Mark's I give you my heart felt thanks. You opened your doors to me, fed me, introduced me to your church, your ministry and your city, thank you so very much. God bless you.

Sincerely,

Drew Foisie
